New Onleases, 25th August, 1809.

Dr. J. C. Avers: Sir. I cheerfully the theory of the request of your agent, and report to you some of the effects I have realized with your Sarsaparilla. I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Feneral and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphillite ulers in his throat, which were consuming his pulate and the top of his mouth. Your Sarsaparilla steadily taken cured him in five veeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptomes a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla; the uleers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on damp day she suffered exernicating pain in her your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great with it have not surprised me.

Dit. J. C. Aver: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in epite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine.

Jules Y. Getchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been affileted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried everything, and everything failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My bolived pastor, the Rev. Mr. Espy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and anything you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to made a new man of me. I feet young again. The best that can be said of you is not half

Settlements of accounts will be required monthly, or the snody of papers will be discontinued. The daily and weekly issues will be furnished at the lowest cash rates and no exception will in future be made to this rule. Those who are acquainted with the expenditure of English colonies in general, as well as those who may not be familiar with them in detail, will be surprised to find the official salaries of British Columbia are on a par with colonies with which she holds no equality in age, political standing, population, or commerce, while what is still worse, the official staff numerically is in the same proportion. If it be true as a standard principle, that the finances of a country should be regus lated by its population and commerce, and that no country can prosper omitting to regulate its general expenditure by this principle, we come at once to the absurdity of our own financial condition. Take Ceylon, Tasmania, New Zealand, Jamaica, greater or smaller status and there will be found no comparative difference worth mentioning between the official expenditure of these old and wealthy colonies and that of British Columbia. This is evidently wrong even if considered on the plea put forth in its justification. For the sake of argument, admitting it true as sometimes urged that the official staff and expenditure of this colony was increased in years past according to its growing necessities, then as an act of justice, it ought to have been gradually reduced according to its decreasing necessities, and not lett as it is, so fastly in excess of population and commerce. It is a poor rule that will not work both ways; and if the requirements of the people demanded the increase heretofore, the require. ments of the people equally demanded the decrease at a later period. One would imagine that as Governments are created to promote the happiness and welfare of the people, such a proposition would be considered selievident, and adopted as soon as made. There seems, however, to be a vast difference in the disposition of a representative council, which increases the official staff as required by the public wants, and a non-representative council which will not reduce it on the same principle or for the same reason. As this is a question relating entirely to the system of our Government, and not to individuals, or the persons forming that Government there can be no delicacy in speaking plainly as required. According to the estimates for the present year, the total sum granted by the Council for contingent service amounts to $358,-923, to this must be added for the Civil List $51,167; for interest on Founded Debt $69,840; for Sinking Fund $50,197; Reduction of Bonds $40,000; making a grand total of $576,000; while the total revenue in 1866 being the year previous to that in which the estimates were prepared fell short $138,982. Supposing the calculation made and relied upon by the Executive that the receipts of this year will overrun the two last years by more than $100,000 proves cerrect, and that the revence and expendi ture are once more equal, it only processor deling viz link sul shall not probably get deeper into debt; Visions and Feed of every kind. but it is no argument at all in favor of our spending in Governmental expenses chiefly the enormous sum of $570 000 simply because by an overwrought system of taxation such a revenue is obtained. At the best it will only make the administration of the Government ensier to the Executive; it will neither lighten the burdens of the people, increase the means of paying off old indebtedness, nor supply a provision for improvements in the interior which cannot much longer be delayed. It will be found quite an interesting and profitable matter to go through the items of our present general expenditure and compare them with other colonies. First, then, we begin with the salary of the Governor. 1n 1863 he received £3,000, in 1865 an additional £1000 was voted; and so with allowances from Marriages and Customs, and for the Leviathan, Transports and Residence, the total salary tration of Government. One thing, however, is evident, if the population, wealth, imports, and revenue of the colony have fallen down to the status of 1863, then the Governor's salary should be simultaneously reduced to the amount given in 1863. But the present amount will be found exorbitant if we compare it with British colonies only. The Governor's duties in British Columbia are not very onerous; they are certainly not equal to those of New Zealand, Queensland, Jamaica, &c., &c., where military expeditions have to be headed personally by the Governor; insurrections put down; native turbulence quelled and a vast amount of physical exertion to be made and physical discomfort suffered; yet the salaries and allowances of the Governors of these colonies with all their superiority over ours in population, commerce, political standing, and revenue, are comparatively about the same as Governor Soymour's. The Governor of New Zealand with salary and allowances gets £4,500; Queensland do., £4000; Jamaica, £5000. These instances we consider sufficient, though if necessary we could quote any number to prove Hong Kong and many others, of a the disparity of salary, labor, and ress ponsibility, but these we hope the candid reader will deem sufficient, ospecially as we cannot devote any more space to this individual item. We shall now go through the general gofticial staff. and it will be seen in the end, the same disparity prevails throughout, and if continued the expenditure will unavoidably be in excess of the revenue for years.

In speaking a few days since of the present enormous reserve military force of England, some of our readers thought the numbers given were above the mark. The following extract from the army estimates for 1868-69 show they were not over stated The Army Estimates for the fiscal year 1868 69 provide for 5.066 permanent staff of Militia, and 128,-971 Volunteer officers and men; and for 362 permanent staff of Yeomanry Cavalry and 15,823 Volunteer officers and men, The capitation grants proposed for Volunteer corps are for 30,084 Artillery Volunteers at 30s., and 124,605 Light Horse, Engineers, and Rifle Voluneers at 20s., with a 10s. grant for 90,587 extra efficients. The vote for enrolling pensioners includes a charge of £12,000 for their pay during training, and £14,100 for bounty money of enrolled pensioners at £1 each. The vote for the Army Reserve force com. prises items of £2,400 for pay during training. £11,600 for bounty at £4 each, and £7,000 for the probable number of men who will engage under the Army Reserve Act of 1867. The total vote for the reserve forces of the army is to be £1,524,500.

WE have some details of the victory of the Brazilians over the Paraguayans. The ironclads, though much battered by the enemy's artillery, succeeded in forcing the passage of Mamaita, wane Marenal de Caxias carried an important redoubt at the north of the fortress. On three ironclads arriving at Ascuncion it was found to be abandoned, as well as all the river towns. We have also a few particulars of the assassination of General Feores, the President of Uruguay. On Feb. 19 a rising of the Blanco party. under Berro, took place at Monte Video. General Flores was murdered, and Manocl Flores and twenty of his friends died suddenly, it is supposed from posson. The people and trans remained faithful to the Government, and made regrisals on the insurgents; Berro, their leader, was shot, and order restored .- London News.

ARRIVAL .- The bark Mauna Loa, Capt Reinking, arrived yesterday morning from the Sandwich Islands, leaving on the 9th just. She is consigned to J R Stewart, and brings 411 barrels of molasses. From the Captain we learn the eruption had ceased. but public feeling was very unsettled and distressed from the late calamity. Sixteen hundred severe shocks were felt in 10 days. The loss of property is lamentably large, but the loss of life, although not known certainly is supposed to be within the limits already mentioned. The high chimneys of the sugar mills were all more or less damaged, and a vast amount of stock and other property destroyed. Business was fair and a large stock of sugar is reported in the market. The general health of the Islands was good, on the Mauna Loa leaving. She brought no papers

REV. THOS. SOMERVILLE V. TURNER AND OTHERS.-This case was again adjourned by mutual consent yesterday until Thursday. So far only two witnesses have been examined, the plaintiff and Mr Cowan. The evidence of the latter bore upon the rights and powers of the Kirk Session which here in the absense of Presbetery and General Assembly would be the governing authority of the Church. The evidence sought to be proved was that the salary of a Scotch Olergyman commenced from the date of ordination to a particular ministration, and not from the time of taking possession. Mr Wood will act hereafter as counsel for defendants. Mr McCreight has appeared for the plaintiff from the beginning.

DRAWBACKS.—The Americans it will be seen by telegraphic summary, in order to restore their building interests to their former condition, have granted a drawback equal to duties on all material imported for shipbuilding. In order to restore our commerce a similar policy was pro this port to take in a cargo of lumber at Westminster against Victoria than any other motive. How wise it is to bite our nose off to spite our face. Cannot this playing at legislation, as boys play at soldiers be put an end

THE funeral of Master R. Harvey was largely attended yesterday. The whole of the Collegiate scholars, headed by the Principal, Rev Woods, followed their lamented schoolmate to the grave. Amongst others in attendance we observed Drs, Tolmie and Ash, High Sheriff Elliott, Captains Franklyn, Cooper and Nagle, Hon Mr Macdonald, the gentlemen of St John's Choir (of which deceased was a member) and a large number of private friends of the family. Another version is given of the reported ill conduct of certain men at the time of the burning of the Monita at Capt. Stamp's mill. Mrs Turpin it is said denies losing any jewelery, and whatever is left of the vessel is due to the crew of the Isabel and the men working at the mill. An official contradiction, it is expected, will be given to the statement copied from the British Columbian.

ANOTHER FENIAN OUTRAGE .- The witness named Tuiner, who gave evidence ... gains Whalan, was inveigled out on 25th, and brutally beaten by three men, evidently with intention to kill him. Other witnesses received threatening netices. Two of the perpetrators have been arrested, and it is to be hoped they will receive a punishment that will put a stop to this lawless violence.

It has become dangerons to take dogs of any value out for airings.

EDITOR COLONIST -- SIR. In reference to a tatement made in the editorial correspondence from San Francisco, appearing in your paper this day week, wherein 'a Mr D is mentioned as losing all his money by speculating in mining stocks,' I find it has been applied to myself. The matter would have been too trifling to notice had not some friends imagined I was the Mr D, and if left uncontradicted, the supposition might injure me in my business relations. London, May 27-The great Epsom Derby race was run to-day at the Epsom Downs. A vast throng was present. Business here is almost entirely suspended. The Prince of Wales and other members of the Royal Family were among the visitors at the race. The weather was fine, More than usual interest attached to the race in consequence of the heavy amount ventured by the Marquis of Hastings on his mare Lady Elizabeth. Blue Gown owned by Sir Joseph Hawley, and ridden by Wells, was the winner; King Alfred, owned by Baron Rothschild second, and Speculum belonging two minutes and forty-four seconds, distance one mile and a half. Eighteen horses ran.

THE BIRD THAT BUILDS A PLAY-HOUSE. You all know what pretty houses birds build to lay their eggs and raise their young in, but did you ever know of a bird going to quite as much trouble just to make a play house? The bower-bird of Australia is not contented with the magnificent forests and crange groves it has to sport in, but it must go to work and self must be quite a fanciful affair. The first thing to be done in their little assemblyroom is one of the last in ordinary houses. Mrs Bower puts down her car-It resembles a tolerable mat, woven of twigs and coarse grasses. Then other twigs are collected, and arching sides are arranged, making a little alley, large enough to accommodate several friends at enough to accommodate several fractions at time. Such romping and racing as goes on when Mrs Bower makes a party. Up and down their curious hall they chase each other, uttering a loud, full cry, which no doubt is meant for laughter. It is no sort of protection from the weather, and as far as any one can see, it is good for nothing but to play in. But as it has nothing else in the world to do but to enjoy itself, it is very well to make that the business of life. It is very different with boys and girls, who have precious souls that must live forever, and who have a work to do for God in this world.

These little Bowers think quite as much of amusement as some silly people we have seen in our lives. They gather together just before the front and back door of their houses a great collection of shining things, nice white pebbles, pretty sea shells, gay feathers, bits of ribbons, when they can steal any; even bright colored rags, broken tobacco pipes, and any shining scraps of metal that they may chance to espy in their travels. Gold and orass are all the same to them. If the gold was dull and the brass bright, they would much prefer the latter.—School-

The Ontario Parliamentary Session.

[From the Canadian News.]

The first session of the Ontario Legisla ture was brought to a close on the 4th March, by a speech from the Lieutenant Governor, which will be found in our summary. The session had been productive of several valuable public measures not the least important of which were those relating to the land, emigration, and mining policy of Ontario and the Agricultural Act introduced by the Hon. Mr Carling, the Minister of Agriculture.

In regard to the land policy, the Gov-ernment properly felt that to have given away the three million acres of land at present unsold—a portion only of which was fit for settlement, in free grantswould have been to have alienated a valuable source of wealth without any corresponding advantage. They, therefore, wisely declared that all agricultural lands should be reserved for settlement and be given as free grants, protected by a homestead law, to those who choose permanently to occupy them; but that timber lands should be reserved for lumbering purposes under a policy to be hereafter, upon fuller inquiry, determined on. The resolutions passed with reference to the mining lands although in some points they may not be all that could be desired, on the whole, will afford general satisfaction to those interested, are just what the farmers of Ontario have been demanding for years past, that is to say that the several agricultural societies of the province will now hold direct intercourse with a public department presided over by a Cabinet Minister, instead of, as under the old regime, with a comparatively speaking, unofficial bureau. And, further, Parliament will now have direct supervision of the expenditure of the all moneys made on account of agricultural grants. Reviewing the results of the session, the Toronto Globe, the opposition paper, says:—"The Legislature has proved itself favorable to economy. It has shown itself possessed of considerable aptitude for practical legislation. It has, n the contest over the narrow gauge, shown itself thoroughly independent of that railway dictation which so often proved mischievous under the old order of things. The people of Ontario have abundant reason to congratulate themselves on the situation. They have the control of their own local affairs so long sought, and so far as the first session's experience goes, the prospect for the sat isfactory working of the new Local Constitution is most excellent. Without a single shilling of direct taxation, the province has more than enough of local evenue, and the Legislature may expend hundreds of thousands yearly in local improvements without adding to the burdens of the people. If the province is not well governed hereafter the people must blame themselves."

The provisions of the Agricultural Act

NEW BRUNSWICK AND ITS FINANCES The debt proper of New Brunswick, amounted on 1st July last to five millions nine hundred and twenty-three thousand four hundred and twenty-two dollars eighty-six cents; and the liabilities on account of railway subsidies to one million eight hundred and sixty-nine thousand and two hundred and ninety-six dollars and ninety-nine cents, which shows a total of debt and liabilities of seven millions seven hundred and ninety-two thousand seven hundred and nineteen dollars and eighty-five cents. As New Brunswick, according to the provisions of the British North America Act, is allowed to enter the union with a debt of seven million dollars, it follows from the above that the province will be held responsible for the interest on seven hundred and ninety two thousand seven hundred and nineteen dollars and eighty-five cents. At the commencement of the union New Brunswick was more heavily burdened with debt than any of the provinces joining the confederation. Assuming the population of New Branswick to have been then three hundred and two thousand, the debt per head of the population was Carnada being at the same time about twenty dollars and fifty cents per head of the population, and that of Nova Scotia
